BUILDING OUR FUTURE

The new state of business

July 2015

Soft soil early work activities start on the Woolgoolga to Ballina upgrade, between Whytes Lane and Pimlico Road from August 2015.

The Australian and NSW governments are jointly funding the Woolgoolga to Ballina Pacific Highway upgrade. These early works form part of the Woolgoolga to Ballina upgrade being delivered in partnership with Roads and Maritime Services and Pacific Complete (comprised of Laing O'Rourke and Parsons Brinkerhoff).

We have contracted SEE Civil Pty Ltd to carry out this section of soft soil work.

It is expected the settlement of the soft soils in this section will be finished in mid 2016, weather permitting. Once complete, this early work will enable building to start on the main alignment.

How will the work affect you?

Work to be carried out between August and September 2015 (weather permitting) includes:

- Installing dust gauges
- Installing nesting boxes
- Establishing the main site office and compound at McAndrews Lane
- Changes to the existing Pacific Highway to improve access and safety
- Installing temporary pavement at Whytes Lane
- Installing boundary fencing, including clearing of vegetation
- Relocating utilities by Telstra.

The map helps explain our work location.

Early work does not include any activities in environmentally sensitive areas. Work in environmentally sensitive areas is regulated by a construction environmental management plan, which is approved by Department of Planning and Environment.

We will try to minimise impacts to residents during this work. Access to residents' properties will be maintained throughout construction and traffic control will be in place where required.

We will make every effort to minimise noise and impacts to residents during this work, however, you may notice some changes around the local area including:

- Increased vehicle and truck movements on local roads and the existing Pacific Highway
 - Increased number of site vehicles and contractors.
