

December 2019

Start of work on the shared path between Cameron and Jubilee streets, Maclean

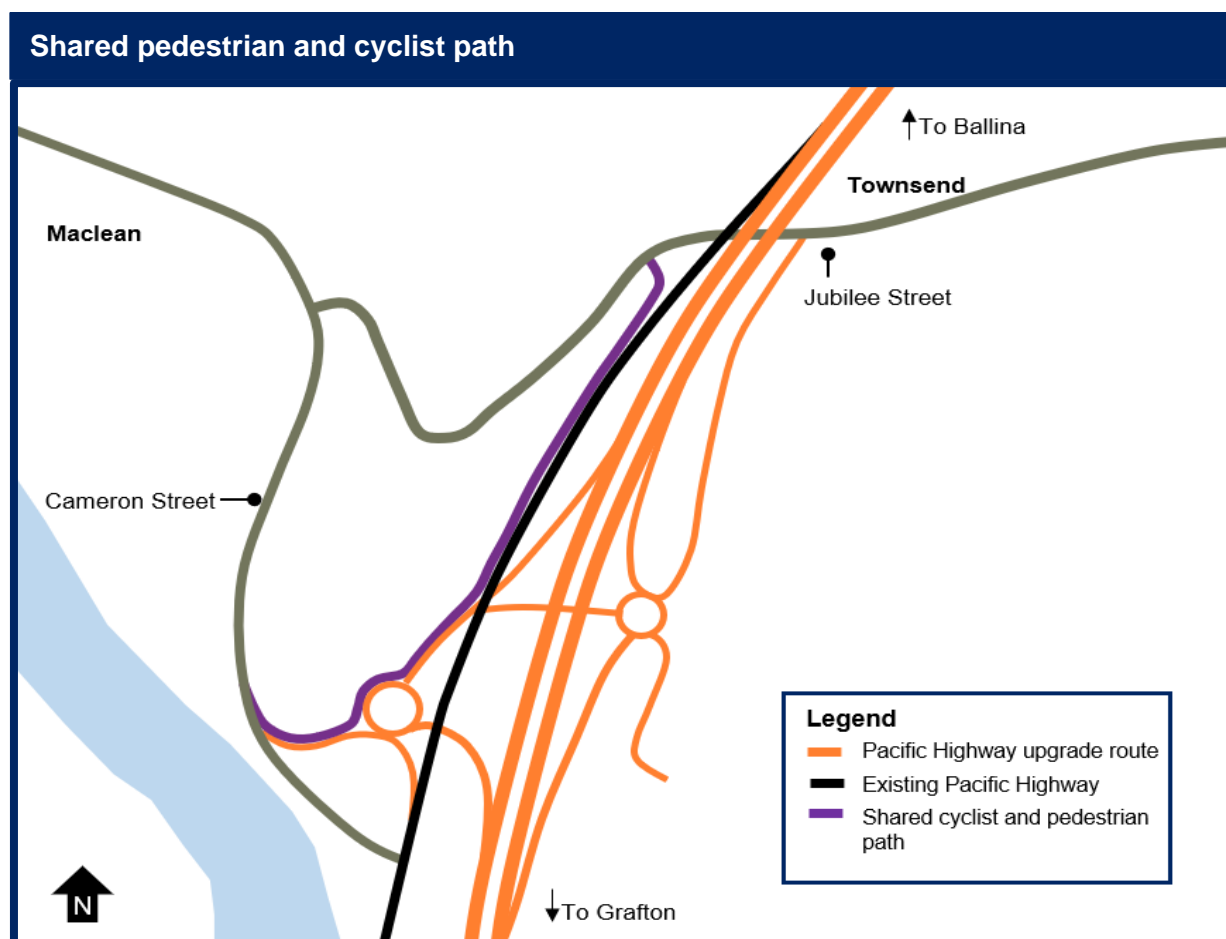

Transport for NSW, Pacific Complete and its contractor partners are working together to deliver the Woolgoolga to Ballina upgrade.

Work to build the shared pedestrian and cyclist path between Jubilee and Cameron streets is planned to start from early December 2019 and will be completed in stages. This work is expected to take about six months to complete, weather permitting.

Stage one work between Jubilee and Cameron streets will involve:

- removing vegetation
- carrying out earthwork and drainage
- paving and concreting
- installing line marking, landscaping and lighting

Stage two work will involve removing the existing bridge over Jubilee Street and sections of the existing Pacific Highway road surface. This work will occur once traffic has moved from the existing highway.

How we manage our work

The project team will use machinery that generates dust, noise, light and vibration. To manage this work we will:

- direct temporary lighting down and away from homes
- locate equipment such as generators as far as possible from residences
- turn off machinery when not in use
- plan activities to minimise noise from reversing vehicles
- monitor noise so we can manage any potential impacts and adjust our work, as required
- monitor dust and use of water carts to manage potential dust impacts as required

All work will be carried out in line with the project's Conditions of Approval and Construction Environmental Management Plan
