Permanent traffic change on Old Six Mile Lane south east of the Woolgoolga to Ballina upgrade, Glenugie

Transport for NSW, Pacific Complete and its contractor partners are working together to deliver the Woolgoolga to Ballina Pacific Highway upgrade.

As part of building the upgrade, permanent traffic changes will be carried out at Old Six Mile Lane, south east of the upgrade from early June, weather permitting.

Old Six Mile Lane, including about one kilometre of new road will open, reconnecting the local road network.

Finishing work including landscaping and installing signage will continue. This work is expected to take about one week to complete. Traffic control and reduced speed limits will be in place during this work.
Renaming local roads

Clarence Valley Council manages local road naming, including Old Six Mile Lane south east of the upgrade. Once a new road name is selected, it is referred to the NSW Geographical Names Board for review and approval. Clarence Valley Council will contact property owners affected by road naming changes.

All work will be carried out in line with the project’s Conditions of Approval and Construction Environmental Management Plan.
