Removal of temporary asphalt batch plant at Mororo

Transport for NSW, Pacific Complete and its contractor partners are working together to deliver the Woolgoolga to Ballina Pacific Highway upgrade.

From October, work will be carried out to demobilise the asphalt batch plant at Mororo. This work will take about three weeks to complete, weather permitting. The project site office at Mororo will continue to operate until late 2020.

Light and heavy vehicles will access the batching plant via Iluka interchange and construction access road off Banana Road to carry out this work. There will be up to 10 heavy vehicle movements per day, for about one week during the peak demobilising period.
This work will involve:

- dismantling and removing the temporary asphalt batch plant
- removing temporary fencing, equipment and materials
- excavating hardstand areas, this activity may generate noise
- installing permanent fencing
- restoring and revegetating some areas once material and equipment has been removed

What happens next?

After the temporary batch plant has been demobilised and all materials and equipment have been removed, the hardstand area will be retained on the property. The area beside the batch plant has already been restored and revegetated.

Some areas near the new highway will be planted with vegetation in line with the project’s urban design and landscape plan, which is available to view at pacifichighway.nsw.gov.au

How we manage our work

The project team will use machinery that generates noise and vibration. To manage this work, we will:

- locate equipment such as generators as far as possible from residences
- turn off machinery when not in use
- plan activities to minimise noise from reversing vehicles
- monitor noise and implement further mitigation measures, if required

All work will be carried out in line with the project’s Conditions of Approval and Construction Environmental Management Plan.

Work hours

In areas where residents live more than 200 metres from the work, extended work hours are allowed between 6am and 7am and 6pm and 7pm from Monday to Friday.
